Section A (For broadcasters electing Option One)

Stations that elect Option One must place a copy of this form on the station's public website, if such exists.

On its analog channel, and its primary digital stream, a station must air one transition PSA, and run one transition crawl, in every quarter of every day. This requirement will increase to two PSAs and crawls per quarter per day on April 1, 2008, and to three of each on October 1, 2008. Stations are required to air PSAs or crawls at various times in any given day part, and at least one PSA and one crawl per day must be run during primetime hours. On-air education must not contain inaccurate or misleading statements and must be provided in the same language as a majority of the programming carried by the station. PSAs must be at least 15 seconds, and closed-captioned. Crawls must run during programming for no fewer than 60 consecutive seconds across the bottom or top of the viewing area (See rules for additional details).

Have you aired a sufficient number of eligible PSAs (28, 56, or 84 per week, depending on the reporting period) during the correct quarters of the day?

Yes

No

Have you aired a sufficient number of eligible crawls (28, 56, or 84 per week, depending on the reporting period) during the correct quarters of the day?

☐

Yes

☒

No

Currently, the equipment that produces our on-air crawl is not working.

KAIL has produced, and is airing DTV PSA's in addition to the mandated PSA's.

In addition, KAIL commenced its education campaign on February 26, 2008, more than one full month prior to the relevant rules becoming effective on March 31, 2008. KAIL seeks a temporary waiver of the crawl requirement on the basis of its additional education in other areas of its campaign.

Section D

Additional DTV On-air Initiatives –

In addition to airing the required PSA's (produced by NAB / "DTV PSA 1") KAIL built and aired DTV PSA's ("DTV PSA 2" & "DTV PSA 3") that addressed supplemental DTV issues not included in the NAB PSA.

Station Website Additional Activity Related To The DTV Transition -

The following is the text seen on KAIL's website. This site also includes links to the FCC's DTV website, NAB's DTV website, and to the FCC's DTV converter coupon website.

My 53, KAIL, can also be seen on My Digital 7.1 in HDTV

KAIL adds The San Francisco Giants & The Retro Television Network to digital channel 7.2, Comcast Channel 191

Since its inception, television has been broadcast using a technology called analog. The federal government has decided to switch from analog to an improved technology called digital. Though digital technology uses the same channel spectrum, existing "analog only" TV's will not be able to read the new technology without some sort of digital to analog conversion. In February of 2009 television stations will turn off our analog channels and will broadcast exclusively on our digital channels.

For now, however, Television broadcasters are sending out both, their original analog signal on their familiar channel position, and their digital signal on their newly assigned channel position. In our case, we are broadcasting all of our familiar programming in analog on channel 53, and at the same time we are also broadcasting the exact same programming in the new digital format on channel 7.1. You may notice that when referring to our digital channel we include "point 1". This is because one of the benefits of this new technology is that we broadcasters will be able to divide our digital channel into sub channels. This is called multicasting. In our case, we will provide all of the programs that you are used to seeing on channel 53 on our primary digital channel 7.1. We then have the ability to broadcast completely different programming on channel 7.2.

Another benefit to digital is the ability to broadcast in High Definition Television, also known as HDTV. Not every digital signal is delivered in HDTV, and not every digital TV can show digital programming in HDTV. You will need both, a digital TV designed for HDTV, and a method of receiving an HDTV signal. Many local broadcasters offer some of their programming in HDTV. Cable operators and satellite services offer channels in HDTV for an additional fee.

If you are interested in buying a new television, please make sure that it is able to receive digital signals. If you are connecting your digital TV to an antenna, please make sure that the antenna is capable of receiving both VHF (channels 2 through 13) and UHF (channels 14 and up).

There is equipment designed for home use that converts digital signals to analog so that your existing TV will be able to view digital signals. The federal government Has a system by which it provides vouchers to help viewers obtain converters at little or no cost. You can register to receive up to 2 vouchers (per household) valued at up to $40.00 each by calling 1(888) 388-2009, or by going on line at www.dtv2009.gov.

Both the government and stations alike understand that this transition can be confusing to the average viewer. It is important to us at KAIL that our viewers understand how to find and receive all of our digital signals. Here are some tips that will help you find our digital signals.

- 1) Analog Only TV's using an Antenna – If you do not intend to buy a television capable of receiving digital signals, and you do not subscribe to a Cable service, Dish or DirecTV, then you will need to purchase a Digital Down-converter. Digital Down-converters take digital signals received via your antenna and converts them to analog so that your TV can display them. The cost of a Digital Down-converter starts at about $40 or $50. The federal government is providing vouchers valued up to $40, good toward the purchase of a Digital Down-converter. Each household is allowed up to 2 vouchers. To apply for a Digital Down-converter voucher please call 1 (888) DTV-2009, or go on line at www.dtv2009.gov. Also, it is very important that your antenna is capable of receiving both VHF (channels 2 through 13) and UHF (Channels 14 and up) signals. An antenna that just receives either UHF or VHF will probably not be able to receive the other. Fresno has been primarily a UHF market for many years. Now, with the advent of digital, some stations (KAIL included) have been assigned VHF channel positions for their digital signals. Antennas with added db gain (the more db gain the better) often out perform those with little or no db gain. When viewers install their antennas they should have them placed as high as they can.
- 2) Digital Ready TV's using an Antenna – If you have purchased a TV that is capable of receiving digital signals, and you do not subscribe to a Cable service, Dish or DirecTV, then you should be able to receive all of our channels via at VHF & UHF antenna. An antenna that just receives either UHF or VHF will probably not be able to receive the other. Fresno has been primarily a UHF market for many years. Now, with the advent of digital, some stations (KAIL included) have been assigned VHF channel positions for their digital signals. Antennas with added db gain (the more db gain the better) often out perform those with little or no db gain. When viewers install their antennas they should have them placed as high as they can. If a viewer currently receives channel 7.1 from an antenna, but their digital TV won't pick up 7.2, they should try re-applying their TV's auto channel search feature.
- 3) Cable service, Dish or DirecTV customers – Almost every Cable, Dish and DirecTV customer currently receives KAIL's analog signal (My53) as part of their basic service. If they are a Comcast customer, and they have a digital receiver, they will get KAIL's digital channel 7.2 on cable channel 191. If a viewer's service does not provide them with access to our digital channels, and that viewer has an analog only TV, then that viewer will need to install an antenna and a Digital Down-converter (please see #1, Antenna to analog only TV's). If a viewer's service does not provide them with access to our digital channels, and that viewer has a digital ready TV, then that viewer will need to install an antenna (please see #2, Antenna to digital ready TV's).
